Lumbermen Plan a Big Organization

United Press Service

CHICAGO, Feb. 24.—Plans for the formation of a big organization to include all associations affiliated in any way with the lumber industry were discussed here today at a meeting of a two day conference of lumbermen and representatives of the affiliated organizations. The new organization probably will be known as the Forest Product Federation.

The object of the new organization, lumbermen explained, will be to compile statistics concerning fire losses in various kinds of construction, to curb the search for a chemical combination by which woods may be fire proofed and to organize an advertising campaign calling the attention of the public to the advantages of wood over other construction materials. The meeting today was called at the instance of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association.

Sidewalk No Ousidor

That spitting on the sidewalks and steps must be stopped in the edict that has gone forth from Chief of Police Shaw. Friday notices were posted in every part of the city warning that the ordinances will be strictly enforced.

The ordinance provided a fine of from $5 to $25 or a jail sentence of ten days. "We have reached the conclusion that this ordinance must be enforced to the letter," said Chief Shaw Friday. "It has been disregarded in the city for some time, particularly by those who use the steps."—Oregon City Enterprise.

Are Seeking Oil

To undertake the development of the oil, gas and artesian possibilities of the Hesse Lake valley, a company to be known as the Lakeview Gas and Oil company is being organized. The promoters of this project are F. O. Bunting, Harry Bailey and A. M. Smith, all pioneer residents and substantial business men of this section. The company will have a capital stock of $2,000, with shares valued at $25 each.—Lake County Examiner.

inclined to think that perhaps it might be better for Klamath if some of her journalists found pastures new. By giving undue prominence to her troubles, the newspapers of Klamath are much to blame for the internecine warfare that has prevailed in that balliwick during the past several years. And just about the time that her many troubles are being settled, a new fight must be started, which is almost in direct opposition to that which has heretofore divided the people.—Lake Co Examiner.

"Stone Age" Again

A revival of the stone industry has struck Oregon and is already bearing fruit at Ashland. The revival was started several months ago when stone cutters and quarry owners held a joint meeting at Portland and laid plans to promote the use of Oregon stone in public buildings. Capital has since been invested in a number of dormant quarry properties and tests of the building stone of the state are being made on a comprehensive scale. The revival began at Ashland about three weeks ago when Shannon & Blair, a big Portland firm, began opening up a quarry just east of the city.—Ashland Tidings.

Medford Wants Band

There is no question of the desirability of a city band. Not only is good music an important element in civic welfare, but band music is a recognized therapeutic agent. It tends to heal sickness of both the body and the mind. It makes people feel better; it drives away gloom and dyspepsia; it stimulates action. By all means let's have a good city band. The citizens truly interested in the betterment of his community could not spend a dollar or two to better advantage.—Medford Sun.

Field Manager Visits

Douglas O. Anderson, field manager for the Western Stock Journal, is in the county for a few days, attending to business matters.

Positively one of the greatest features of the present day—"A Million Bid," at the Star theater tonight.

Insurance that pays, as pays on time. See Chilcote, 625 Main St.

At the Orpheus tonight is featured "The Battling British," a stirring story of England's early naval glory. The new service inaugurated at the Orpheus has met with the approval of the theater-going public and much favorable comment is heard. "A Lucky Hoodoo," featuring Dot Farley, completes tonight's bill. On next Tuesday evening the first episode of "The Million Dollar Mystery" will be shown and the public is cordially invited to be the guests of Klamath's Klassy Show house at this performance.

"A Million Bid," the Broadway Star production, which was presented at the Star theater last night, is, without question one of the finest pictures that has ever been seen at the house of big features. The cast is made up entirely of Vitaphone stars. Miss Anita Stewart in the role of Agnes, is seen in the greatest portrayal she has ever attempted. In the future picture fans will welcome the appearance of Miss Stewart, as she has left with us the impression that she is one of the greatest stars in the present moving picture world.

Julia Swane Gordon, Kate Price, E. K. Lincoln, Harry T. Morey and, in fact, the entire cast are seen to exceptionally good advantage. The costumes and the settings are elaborate, and the photography throughout the entire five reels is of the finest quality.

The wreck scene is the most realistic and thrilling ever seen here in any picture.

"A Million Bid" is truly a superior offering, and will be presented to-night for the last time. Another good number of the bill is one of the "Hazards of Helen" series, "The Girl at the Throttle." Tomorrow the five reel production of "Uncle Tom's Cabin" come to the Star.

Jess Willard and the "Greasers"

Jess Willard, the giant of six feet and seven inches, who is in training near Ysleta Texas, for his fight of forty-five rounds with Jack Johnson, is a perpetual wonder to the Mexicans of the border. In order to impress two he stood up with them and had his photograph taken.

The photograph incidentally shows that Willard is already in pretty good condition for the fight. He weighed at the time 245 pounds, and he said he wished to be reduced to 230. He expects to enter the ring with Johnson at that weight. Johnson will be considerably smaller, and will probably not go more than 215 pounds, if he can get down to the proper condition. Johnson is older, but not near so large a man as Willard. Of course, those persons now on the ground expect to see Willard win. He has shown such capability, in his training that they cannot imagine how a smaller man will stand in front of him.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY

United Press Service.
SANTA ANNA, Cal., Feb. 24.—If your house is infested with bed bugs, you don't have to pay rent.
This is the ruling of Justice Cox who decided in favor of H. Carrithers, a householder, who was sued by W. H. Brooks for $20 rent.
"Your honor," said Carrithers, "there were bed bugs everywhere in that house. They drove us out."
"Big one," asked the court.
"Well, some of the rats were almost as big," said Carrithers.
"Dismissed," ruled the court.
